Senator Platt refuses to discuss the conference further than in the following official statement:

"The general opinion of those at the conference was that the police conditions existing in New Yo'x ought to have the attention of the Legislature, but that it would be useless to pass any bill, as the Governor has declared that he would veto it. Some of those present favored a State police law and others favored a metropolitan district, but it was conceded by all that nothing should be done at present.

"I regret the situation, as I believe that some action by the Legislature is important for the city and the Republican party, and I think that such will be the general public opinion soon.
